

MORWELLHAM QUAY

HISTORIC PORT, VILLAGE & COPPER MINE

Near Tavistock, Devon, PL19 8JL
www.morwellham-quay.co.uk

Tel. 01822 832766
admin@morwellhamquay.org

Group Visits Information –2017

Set in spectacular landscape in the Tamar Valley, Morwellham Quay is a 'lost' Victorian village, port and copper mine offering a fascinating day out for visitors of all ages.

As featured on BBC's Edwardian Farm

OPENING TIMES: 10am to 5pm

We suggest you allow two to four hours for a visit.

GROUP PRICES: Extremely good value.

Prices available for groups of 16 or over, when booked in advance and paid for by one person.

COPPER MINE: A 40-minute trip on the famous mine train takes you into the George & Charlotte copper mine: Learn about the appalling conditions faced by the miners in Poldark's time. (40 people at a time.)

LIVING HISTORY:

Enjoy the charm of a bygone age, as costumed guides show you what life was really like:

- Lend a hand making a rope;
- Join a Victorian School Lesson;
- Learn about backbreaking child labour;
- Board the Garlandstone for life at sea.

FOOD: A variety of snacks, hot and cold lunches, cakes and cream teas are available in the restaurant.

ACCESS: Because of the age of the site and buildings, there are some cobbled areas and steps into buildings.

DIRECTIONS: From Tavistock in Devon, follow the brown signs - take the A390 towards Liskeard and bear left after two miles. From Cornwall, follow the signs on the A390 towards Tavistock and turn right 1 mile after Gunnislake.

*Lots to see at Morwellham Quay – Where History comes to Life!
Part of the Cornwall and West Devon Mining Landscape World Heritage Site in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty*